IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of Brady Jones, Sr., who passed away November 25, 1974. -
Nothing is the same since you have gone away,
We miss your loving smile and tender care,
That lasted not just a while, but everyday of every year.
Loving memories never die, as days roll on and years go by Deep in our hearts those memories are kept.
For the one we loved and will never forget.
Sadly missed by Wife and Children 11-24-1p

In loving memory of my late husband, Charlie James Bagby, who passed away, November 24, 1967.

No one knows the silent heart aches,
Only those who have lost can tell,
Of the grief that is bore in silence.
For the one I loved so well.
Sadly missed by his wife, Mary 11-24-1p

REVLON SEMINAR

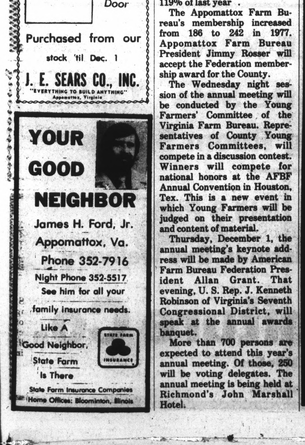
Pictured above are Mrs. Betty Jean Blanks and Mrs. Jo Meadows of Appomattox Rexall Drug Store. Betty and Jo attended a Revlon Seminar and beauty treatment training session at Sheraton Inn in Salem on November 16. The affair lasted for the entire day.

Mrs. Nancy Wilson, formerly of Nashville, Tenn., taught the class. She is a trained Revlon sales representative who travels throughout the United States. Also present was a head Revlon district salesman, Mr. Ansen Smith. He answered questions for this session concerning anything about Revlon products.

Demonstrations were given on complete skin care, nail care and ideas on how to correct or prevent these problems. Makeup applications were given also. At this seminar all the lastest and most fashionable colors shades, and products for 1978 were shown. Wine with Everything will be the theme for 1978.

New products will be available the first of next year. Anyone wishing to ask a question about the skin, or about the newest in make-up applications, please feel free to stop by the Appomattox Drug Store and ask for Betty or Jo. Mrs. Jane Pack is also qualified to help and assist you with your skin care needs. Also ask about the free make-up applications which will begin very soon.

Some new hints were also given for cologne and perfume users: Example: Fragrances rise, so to get the most out of that expensive bottle of perfume, spray lightly around the ankles!!



ZINNA 'CHERRY RUFFLES' HYBRID
All-American Selections Silver Medal 1978

Flower arrangers will immediately see the place for this new cherry red color - crimson with a slight hint of blue apparent when blossoms are backlighted by the sun. It is a positive color yet such a natural extension of the pastel pink rose and lavender palette that many new color combinations will be possible.

'Cherry Ruffles', like its sisters in the much decorated 'Ruffles' class of zinnias, is basically a landscape flower. However, judicious cutting of whole branches for arrangements doesn't mar its appearance; the stems rebranch to cover up unevenness.

'Ruffles' blossoms have the happy advantage of looking just as good from the side as from the top. Petals are rolled longitudinally or "fluted." This adds roundness and a sculptured effect, especially evident in mature blooms.

Plants will grow to 24 to 30 inches in height at maturity and blossoms reach up to 3 inches in diameter. Be sure to plant light colored zinnias along with 'Cherry Ruffles' to set off its unique, almost fluorescent shade.

USDA ANNOUNCES 10 PERCENT SET-ASIDE, OTHER 1978 FEED GRAIN PROGRAM PROVISIONS

er levels.

- That there will be no land diversion payments.

- There will be no limitaiton on planted acreage.

- That oats will not be included in the feed grain program.

Participation in the feed grain set-aside program is voluntary. Non - participants, however, are not eligible for price support loans, disaster payments, or deficiency (target price) payments. Participants must "set-aside" one acre for every ten acres actually planted for harvesting 1978. Under "cross - compliance" rules a farmer who does not participate in the set-aside is ineligible for loans and payments on other crops.

Producers who voluntarily reduce their corn and sorghum acreage by five percent, or barley acreage planted for harvest by 20%, in 1978 from that planted in 1977 are guaranteed target price protection on the normal production from their entire acreage and qualify for loan programs on all they produce.

To be eligible for loans, purchases and payments, if applicable, on crops included in the normal crop acreage, the producer must comply with the feed grain set-aside if corn, sorghum, or barley is planted for the 1978 harvest.

The Department is proposing that acreage designated as set-aside under the '78 feed grain program must be in an approved vegetative cover crop such as annual or perennial grasses and legumes or small grain which is not allowed to mature. It also proposes land eligible is any cropland that was tilled within the prior three years in crop production other than hay or pasture. Summer fallow is not included.

Publication of final regulations on these proposals is being deferred until all comments received are evaluated.

Senior Class Makes Plans

On November 3, 1977, the Senior Class of Appomattox County High School met in the auditorium to vote on the Senior Class trip. President, Ronnie Richardson, called the meeting to order. Rose Glenn gave devotions, Marzetta Hodnett gave the Secretary's Report.

Mr. Armentrout then gave itenaries on the possible class trips. They are as following: A tour of Virginia and Washington D. C., Atlanta, Georgia, Nashville, Tennessee and Pennsylvania. The class made a motion and carried it that we add Florida to the list. The class then proceeded to vote on the possibilities. The top three choices were as follows: Florida, Atlanta, Georgia, and Pennsylvania.

Guest speakers for graduation were voted on next. The three choices were: Representative from Virginia, Dan Daniels; Governor Elect of Virginia, John Dalton and Mayor of Appomattox, Henry Pack.

The meeting was then adjourned.

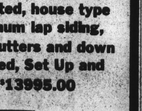
ENERGY TALKS
Q. Should natural gas price controls be extended to the currently unregulated intrastate market?



A. This would only serve to reduce the amount of gas available to the intrastate market, where traditionally higher prices have resulted in larger exploration efforts. Prices in this unregulated sector, of the natural gas market have enabled producers there to explore for and produce gas that would be non-commercial in the regulated interstate sector. Since the advent of interstate regulation in 1954, there has been a marked increase in the amount of gas dedicated to interstate sale. By 1970, 60 percent of new gas supplies was sold in the unregulated sector. Between 1970 and 1973, well over three-fourths of all new gas was sold in the intrastate market. The imposition of controls on the intrastate market would reduce incentive for continued exploration without assuring more supplies for the interstate market. How can we assure more supplies for the interstate market? One step is to deregulate natural gas prices.

Charles Blondin crossed Niagara Falls on a tightrope several times, including blindfolded, in stilts, in a sack, pushing a wheelbarrow, carrying a man and even stopping to cook and eat an omelet.
